

“Big global players at ICTexpo Gothenburg”

The visitors were unanimous: ICTexpo (Gothenburg, 17 & 18 January) is the place to discover the future of IT and shape your organisation’s long-term IT strategies. In addition to this year’s exhibitors, there were also representatives from global companies such as Google, Facebook, Spotify, Microsoft and Apple, all of whom wanted to seize the opportunity to share their products and visions at ICTexpo’s popular learnShops.

3442 visitors attended at the Swedish Exhibition and Congress Centre for two days of intense networking, learning and business. This year’s hottest topic on the floor and in the seminars was mobility.
