

Visitor Terms & Conditions

Visitors must register for easyFairs events before entering the show area. This can be done online or on site. Visitors are issued with a badge which they should wear and make visible at all times while on site. Visitor badges are not transferable. By visiting an easyFairs event, visitors accept that they may be filmed or recorded for broadcast or promotional purposes.

easyFairs does not allow visitors to make sales, canvas or distribute promotional material while on site. They may only record the proceedings of an easyFairs event (for example, with video or still cameras or with audio-recording equipment) if they have first obtained written permission from the organisers.

To ensure public safety, easyFairs reserves the right to search visitors.

easyFairs reserves the right to deny admission to any person. easyFairs events are designed for specific trade and professional audiences only, therefore students are not admitted.

easyFairs does not accept financial or any other responsibility for any personal damage or injury and for any loss or damage to personal property that may occur during a visit to its trade shows.

Please note that easyFairs trade shows are also subject to the terms & conditions published by the venue's management.

Data protection: Please note that by registering for an easyFairs show, visitors give permission to easyFairs to inform them about the show and topics of direct relevance such as news reports relating to the subject matter of the show. In addition, visitors give easyFairs permission to pass on their addresses to exhibitors and trusted partners. Finally, addresses may be transferred to, and used by, members of the Artexis Group of companies, of which easyFairs is a part. easyFairs takes care to protect the security of visitor information and visitors' privacy by ensuring that their addresses are not used for other purposes.
